Bandinfo:

„INSWINGTIEF“ - exquisit acoustic swing between gypsyjazz and worldmusic

„INSWINGTIEF“ are four experienced musicians, each with a different stylistic background. Despite of their widespread influences and preferences they became a real unity – a real band.

A worldmusic and folk violinist with a huge love for Stephane Grapelly (Thomas Buffy), a straight ahead swinging electric jazzguitar player (Stefan Degner), a popmusic influenced doublebass player from Italy (Sabrina Damiani) and a rhythm guitar player on the acoustic gypsyguitar (Felix Leitner) meet and do the only sensible thing: they start listening to each other, they inspire each other and they are playing together with great nonchalance and understatement, not wasting too much thought about dogmatic and strict stylistic boundaries.

There happens a bebop solo to appear in a tango piece, there's a fiery and passionate gypsy guitar in a cool bossa nova, or suddenly there's a hint of Piazzolla in a traditional Musette-waltz. For these four musicians, playing music together is nothing but pure fun and joy. And as a listener you can hear and feel this easiness and this joy in every note they are playing.
